

My name is Sammy. I am not a pirate but one day I found a treasure.

Sammy's Toys

Did you notice that Sammy's bunny and his other toys are on almost every page of the book? If you hadn't realised, maybe try to have a look for them! These toys help Sammy a lot; they comfort him, calm him, hug him, accompany him.

Do you have an object that brings you comfort when you need it? Perhaps it is a toy, or a pillow, a sweater, a stone, a blanket with a nice smell, or a special object.

When Sammy is feeling sad or worried, he looks for his toys. Sometimes just holding them and talking to them makes him feel better. Would you like to draw yours?
